

E. Boineau & Company/Team Bios

Elizabeth L. Boineau, president and owner of E. Boineau & Company, is an over 35-year veteran of marketing communications and public relations. She offers extensive management experience in the marketing communications field, with an emphasis on public relations and media strategy.

In addition to running her own agency, Elizabeth has served in senior management positions with the three largest communications firms in the world - Omnicom for Fleishman Hillard in Atlanta, Interpublic Group for Weber/Shandwick in Atlanta and Miami, and WPP for Hill & Knowlton in Los Angeles. In these roles, she offered strategic communications planning, insight and counsel to leading national companies.

Over the years, Elizabeth has served in leadership positions on numerous boards and committees including as a longstanding member of the Neurosciences Advisory Board at MUSC and Edisto Island Open Land Trust. Prior to that she served as chair of the Advisory Council for Lowcountry Autism Foundation, housed at MUSC and as past president of Charleston Stage and Charleston Advertising Federation, and as a board member of the Charleston Chamber of Commerce, among other community and industry-focused roles. She has been recognized for excellence by industry peers on numerous occasions. She was awarded the American Advertising Federation's Annual Silver Medal Award in February 2010 for industry leadership and community involvement. For many years, she authored a monthly marketing column for the Charleston and Columbia Regional Business Journals.

Before forming her Charleston-based firm, Elizabeth was director of public relations for the Charleston County School District, the second largest district in the state. Prior to that, she was the marketing officer for C&S Bank (Bank of America) for the Charleston (S.C.) Trident area.

Senior Account Director Melissa Pluta Parker joined E. Boineau and Company in 2006. She has several years of combined editorial and marketing experience, having acted as the editorial and marketing assistant at The Nautical & Aviation Publishing Company; as assistant editor for SC Clips, a subscription-based online news source; and as co-editor for Yemassee, the literary journal at the University of South Carolina. In addition to serving as a core team member for E. Boineau & Company, Melissa teaches English part-time at Charleston Southern University.

Melissa, who holds a Ph.D. in English from the University of South Carolina, earned a bachelor's degree from the College of Charleston, where she majored in English and minored in both mass media communications and dance.

Haley M. Jordan, senior account manager of E. Boineau & Company, joined the firm in 2014. She served two years as assistant account executive, and then went on to pursue a full-time career in sales and marketing for the national medical company, Concentra. In 2018, Haley took the opportunity to travel internationally and returned to E. Boineau & Company in 2019. She is a graduate of Radford University, with a Bachelor of Science from the School of Communication. Haley majored in public relations and minored in management. While in college, she was an active member of the Public Relations Student Society of America, the National Communication Association Honor Society, and a Panhellenic Council organization, Delta Zeta.
